

Prison Sentence Given Two Spies

Mrs. Sobel, Albam Get 5½ Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Two European refugees who found a haven in this country were sentenced Friday to 5½ years each in prison for spying on the United States for Russia.

At the same time, Col. Rudolph Ivanovich Abel, was held without bail in another federal court on an entirely different spy charge. He was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury in Brooklyn and faces a possible death sentence if convicted.

Sent to prison from U.S. District Court in Manhattan were Jacob Albam, 64, who came here from Lithuania; and Mrs. Myra Sobel, 52, born in Russia. They seemed taken aback by the sentence. The blonde Mrs. Sobel had laughed in court when arrested, Friday she wept.

Probers Hear Union Let Dio, Two Others Set Price For Leaving

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee was told Friday that the old AFL Auto Workers let gangster Johnny (Dio) Dioguardia and two others set $396,000 as their price for leaving the union.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy thus summed up the evidence just before the senators recessed their hearing for the weekend. The committee is investigating allegations of improper labor-management activities.

The last witness was Earl Heaton, outgoing president of the Allied Industrial Workers (AFL-CIO), the new name of the Auto Workers.

House Votes Pay Raise For Million Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the face of a veto threat, the House Friday voted an 11 per cent pay raise for one million federal workers. This would add 530 million dollars a year to federal payroll costs.

It passed by a 329-58 rollcall vote. That was 71 votes more than would be needed to override a presidential veto.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where a committee has recommended a 7½ per cent raise.

By a 110-71 teller vote, the House defeated a proposal to make the raise 7½ per cent.

In a teller vote, the members marched by tellers—one for "aye" and one for "no"—and are counted. Their votes are not recorded by name.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, a Republican floor leader, predicted that if the bill gets to the White House in its present form, "it will be vetoed."

HOW THEY VOTED ON PAY INCREASE

British Navy Keeps Eye On Polish Subs

LONDON (AP)—The British navy Friday shadowed two Polish submarines moving down Britain's east coast, but Friday night there was still no clue as to what they were doing or where they were heading.

A naval spokesman said there was no confirmation of earlier rumors that the crews might be preparing to seek asylum here.

The submarines flew the ensign of Communist Poland, but the Admiralty said it believed they are Russian-built craft of the later "M" class, designed for coastal work.

They were first sighted soon after dawn about 10 miles off the coast of Aberdeenshire, in north-east Scotland. Most of the day they kept a southward course roughly parallel to the coast, but Friday night they were steering out into the North Sea and were some 50 miles off Newcastle-Upon-Tyne, in northern England.

At one time they passed within 10 miles off the mouth of the Firth of Forth, a major British naval stronghold.

Most of the day two British coastal minesweepers kept track of the submarines. The Admiralty explained this was because the submarines' mission and destination were unknown.

One theory was that they were on their way from the Baltic to the Mediterranean for delivery to a Middle East country. Last month three Soviet submarines sailed through the English Channel and on to Egypt, where they were handed over to President Nasser's navy.

The appearance of Communist naval craft so near the British coast caused excitement here. They stayed outside territorial waters, but a naval spokesman said: "It would be quite unusual for them to be on normal maneuvers in this area."

According to Jane's Fighting Ships, an authoritative British publication giving details of the world's navies, the "M" type submarine is 146 feet long, has a displacement of 205 tons, carries a crew of 20 and has a range of 3,400 miles.

Name Colorado Rancher Chief Of Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—James H. Smith Jr., 47, former assistant secretary of the Navy for air, was named by President Eisenhower Friday to take over the multibillion dollar foreign aid program.

Smith will succeed John B. Hollister as director of the International Cooperation Administration which runs the aid program. Hollister is returning to his law office in Cincinnati but has agreed to stay on the job until Smith's appointment has been confirmed by the Senate.

Smith is an Aspen, Colo., rancher and lawyer. A carrier pilot in World War II, Smith served as assistant secretary of the Navy from 1953 to 1956. There he was an outspoken advocate of naval aviation.

Eisenhower also sent to the Senate the nominations of five delegates and five alternates to the U. N. General Assembly.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., was reappointed chief U. S. representative, with James J. Wadsworth of New York designated as his chief assistant, although technically an alternate.

Reps. Carnahan (D-Mo) and Judd (R-Minn) were named as delegates to succeed Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Knowland (R-Calif). The practice is to alternate senators and House members on the delegation.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and Herman B. Wells, president of Indiana University, also were named delegates.

Rayburn Willing To Compromise Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) called on the House Friday to accept the Senate's version of the civil rights bill. But he left the door open for a compromise.

Rayburn, leader of the Democratic majority in the House, said that while he is for the Senate bill as it stands he would be willing to limit the terms of its controversial jury trial amendment.

His statement definitely improved the chances of the House and Senate getting together on civil rights legislation which President Eisenhower would be willing to sign.

Eisenhower opposes the Senate's jury trial amendment as a danger to the power of federal courts to enforce their orders in injunction cases. Administration sources say he would veto any bill so amended.

House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts demanded that the Senate's version be rejected.

Dulles Outlines U.S. Policy On Nuclear Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has sent word to the Kremlin that the United States will never agree to stop testing atomic weapons without a simultaneous agreement to stop making them.

American officials hope this reply to a Soviet inquiry will finally convince Soviet leaders that they have no prospect of winning American or Western acceptance of their test-suspension plan. Russia wants to call off tests for two or three years apart from any other step in disarmament.

Dulles and his associates would know better how to estimate Soviet reaction to the U. S. position on this point—and in fact, on a whole range of diplomatic questions—if they felt they knew who is really running Soviet foreign policy.

But the identity of the mind behind Kremlin diplomacy is described here as a real mystery. It is more baffling than some that Moscow has produced in the past years because the identities of the top authorities are of course well known. Dulles has asked intelligence agencies to study the puzzle and come up with a solution.

Dulles gave his emphatic rejoinder on atomic test policy to Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin in London last week. They talked privately at a luncheon. Zorin is Russia's top disarmament negotiator.

The Soviets have made a major issue in their policy and in their propaganda of getting atomic weapons tests called off. At London they proposed a suspension of two or three years. Most officials here believe they are playing this line primarily because it has had broad mass appeal.

Report Soviet Supplying Arms To Yemenis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Soviet Union is reported infiltrating another section of the Arab world with a supply of arms to the desert kingdom of Yemen. The Russians also may be sending more submarines to the eastern Mediterranean for the Syrian-Egyptian axis.

Britain accused Russia Friday of sending six of seven shiploads of propeller-driven planes, old T34 tanks, rocket carriers, artillery and small arms this year to Yemen, a remote realm of 4½ million Arabs on the Red Sea side of the Arabian Peninsula.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said "we understand that about 50 Russian instructors or advisers are in the country," which has been feuding for months with the neighboring British protectorate of Aden.

Few Yemenis are mechanics. Most would obviously need prolonged instruction to make efficient use of planes and motorized equipment.

Similar instruction has been given to the Egyptians and Syrians after they broke the ice by buying Red arms.

Red submarines got back in the news, from Cairo to London.

Rev. Borne, Priest For 50 Years, Dies

KIMBERLY, Wis. (AP)—The Rev. Cornelius Vanden Borne, who would have been 75 Sunday and planned to celebrate his 50th anniversary as a priest Aug. 18, died Friday of the burns he suffered in a gas explosion.

Father Vanden Borne and Janitor John Vanden Berk, 69, who died earlier Friday, entered the basement of the Holy Name Roman Catholic Church school to light a water heater Thursday night.

The heater, which burned bottled gas, had a defective mechanism which allowed the gas to leak when the pilot light was out. Officials said. The flames burned the men over 90 per cent of their bodies and ripped the boiler room apart.

British, Muscat Forces Run Into Opposition Near Firq

KERSHA, Oman (AP)—Unexpected resistance by the forces of the Imam of Oman caused a mixed British and Muscat force to pause Friday for a general overhaul before attacking Firq, about two miles north of Kersha.

The army of the Sultan of Muscat and Oman reached the outskirts of Firq Thursday but ran into heavy rifle fire from well-concealed positions. It withdrew Thursday night into Kersha to prepare a concerted attack.

British sources told the Associated Press in Manama, Bahrain that Brig. J. A. R. Robinson, commander of the joint ground forces, flew to Manama from Oman to urge an all-out air attack on Firq. Up to now the British have refrained from action that might result in the death of many Arabs. It was said that the rebel cave hideouts had been located, and a program to wipe out the defenders was expected Saturday.

Governors Study Functions U.S. Could Revert To States

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—An "action" committee of governors Friday sounded out Secretary of the Treasury Anderson on the possibility of relinquishing to the states a $750 million dollar portion of annual federal revenues.

In turn the states would take the federal government completely out of such aid-to-states functions as schools lunches, vocational education, needy old age assistance, disaster relief and water pollution, programs now costing an estimated 400 million dollars a year.

Anderson was noncommittal. He and Secretary of Labor Mitchell showed up as President Eisenhower's principal spokesmen at a conference set up with seven governors to examine what federal programs can be absorbed by the states.

"First of all, we should endeavor to seek out some specific function which can be turned over exclusively to the states," Anderson said in a statement to the governors.

"At the same time, we will come to a meeting of the minds on specific tax sources from which the federal government will withdraw and which the states can use."

The reaction of the governors' action group was generally favorable to the broad proposals made by President Eisenhower at the governors' conference at Williamsburg, Va., in June.

But individual governors were cautious in their viewpoints on specific details for carrying out the President's suggestions.

Nation's Crop Prospects Near Average Of Past Five Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—After suffering from spring floods and planting delays, the nation's crop prospects improved during July to promise a harvest approaching the average of the past five years.

Reporting this Friday in its monthly crop survey, the Agriculture Department said it now expects that the harvest volume will be 103 per cent of the 1947-49 base average. This compares with 99 per cent forecast a month ago and with the record high of 106 marked up last year.

The prospective volume of production will be ample for anticipated needs, particularly in view of reserve and surplus supplies accumulated from past crops.

The department said prospects for corn, rice and sugar beets improved during the month. Significant to small decreases were indicated for wheat, oats, barley, flaxseed, hay, tobacco and potatoes.

The sorghum grain crop looks nearly three-fourths larger than last year's record. The soybean crop, despite increased acreage, may be 6 per cent under last year.

The corn crop was forecast at 3,665,771,000, which is near average, although a tenth less than last year. The department said corn has generally escaped heat damage during the pollination season in leading North Central states.

The wheat crop was estimated at about 915 million bushels or about 8 per cent less than last year. A crop of this size may be less than market needs, but surpluses would fill any deficit.

The soybean crop was forecast at 428,356,000 bushels or about 23 million bushels less than last year. The department said tobacco contended with drought in most important areas, with some decline in prospects.

Total fruit production was expected to be about the same as both last year and the average nearly three-fourths larger than last year.

Sweeping Toward East Central Texas

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Tropical storm Bertha, no longer a hurricane, moved inland Friday night and was crossing the path followed by its murderous sister of six weeks ago, Hurricane Audrey.

G. L. Allen, forecaster at the New Orleans Weather Bureau, said Bertha apparently was headed in the direction of Lufkin in east central Texas.

Allen said Bertha was crossing Audrey's path near Cameron, La., about 7 p. m.

The Weather Bureau's 7 p. m. bulletin located the center of Bertha about 20 miles south of Lake Charles, La.

The bulletin said the highest tide reported along the central Louisiana coast was five feet and the highest wind from a reliable source was 65 m. p. h.

The storm was moving northwesterly about 12 m.p.h. The bulletin said a hurricane warning would remain displayed from Galveston, Tex., to Vermilion Bay, La., and storm warnings on the east Louisiana coast.

Winds Drop

The Weather Bureau reduced Bertha's classification to a tropical storm when its winds dropped below 75 miles an hour, the minimum velocity of a hurricane.

Fewer persons apparently were in Bertha's way when it reached the Cameron area. Most coastal residents, their stubbornness washed away by Audrey's tides, fled to higher grounds at first warnings.

Earlier, tides of five to six feet, more than four feet above normal, were predicted for Galveston and Sabine Pass, Tex., while lesser swellings of three to five feet were forecast for the central Louisiana coastline.

Cameron Deserted

The small fishing and hunting town of Cameron in extreme southwest Louisiana, all but eradicated by Audrey's merciless hammering, was almost deserted. Remnants fled to Lake Charles, 60 miles to the north.

Some of the Cajun inhabitants of the marshy coastlands cling to their hardy outlook and chose to battle the tropical menace.

Sheriff Remained

Deputy Sheriff Charles Murphy of Cameron remained. He said he believed "it is my duty to serve the public." But he sent his wife and three children to the safety of Red Cross shelters in Lake Charles.

Cameron Sheriff O. B. Carter estimated about 500 persons were in the city doing rebuilding and rehabilitation work when the first warnings of Bertha came. He said about 95 per cent were evacuated by nightfall Thursday.

Anxiety reigned along a 126-mile front from Vermilion Bay, La., to Galveston, Tex. Forecasters said it would be difficult to pinpoint the spot where Bertha would choose to strike.

Forecaster C. L. Allen said the storm's present path would take it inland around Galveston, or 30 miles either side of the Texas resort city. But he quickly emphasized the whimsical storm could veer to the north and hit Louisiana, or move to the south and back into the Gulf where it was spawned.

Challenge Even, Odd Parking Rule

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Enforcement of Evanston's musical chairs parking ordinance was challenged Friday in Circuit Court.

William J. Scott, a resident of the Chicago suburb was given a ticket summons July 13 because his car was parked where police said it shouldn't be on odd-numbered days. Scott asked that Evanston officials be barred from enforcing the ordinance.

The regulation requires that on all except specified streets, cars must be parked on the side of the street containing the even house numbers during the early morning hours following nights of even numbered dates.

Cars left out all night on odd numbered dates must be parked on the odd-number side of the streets or else their owners are fined $2. The ordinance was adopted to make things easier for streets sweepers.

Scott contended the ordinance cannot be enforced because the streets are not posted with the complicated instructions for motorists.

Editorial Comment

A Distinguished Life

The late Sen. Walter George was the kind of lawmaker who makes the American legislative system workable and effective.

Inevitably, that system depends heavily upon a relatively few men of character and intelligence. This handful of soberly guides the Congress on a generally sane course, helps it to balance or cancel its errors, keeps it moving toward objectives despite its great inherent inertia.

For many years George headed the important Senate Finance Committee which frames the nation's tax laws. In this post he was a stalwart guardian of governmental fiscal responsibility.

Basically a conservative, his opposition in the mid-1930's to some of Franklin D. Roosevelt's policies led the latter to attempt to purge George at the polls in 1938. The effort failed and George continued a Senate career that lasted 34 years.

Despite F.D.R.'s action, George led the late president's campaign to gain congressional approval of the vital war-time lend-lease program through which we aided our allies.

Later in life, the senator turned his interest to foreign affairs, and took the leadership of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

As chairman he was a strong advocate of bipartisanship in foreign policy. His personal pronouncements often had important effect both at the White House and in foreign capitals.

When he decided in 1956 not to run again, President Eisenhower gave recognition to his achievements in this field by making him a special ambassador to NATO.

Though for long years he was less in the public eye, Senator George had the kind of sincerity and intellectual honesty that marked the legislative career of the late Senator Taft of Ohio. In consequence he was held in high esteem by members of both parties.

George never shied from bearing the heaviest burdens a legislator could assume. In performing so wonderfully well the difficult tasks he undertook on behalf of the American people, he earned their lasting respect and won for himself a place among the outstanding U.S. senators of this or any prior century.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A young fellow named Pete Palmer has a sure-fire recipe for losing weight—get a top part in a Broadway Musical.

"I weighed 260 pounds as a college freshman," said Pete, who stands 6 feet 4 and plays the title role in "Lil' Abner."

"I weighed 245 pounds when I was studying music and playing tackle on the University of Illinois football team. But after playing 'Lil' Abner' some 350 times, I'm down to 215 pounds."

"My old coach, Ray Eliot, told me, 'son, if I could have gotten you in this kind of shape, you'd have made the all-America.'"

The quick rise to fame of this big young singer, who is as likable in real life as the comic strip hero of Despatch he portrays, is one of those success sagas that make Broadway folk themselves believe Broadway has a heart.

After leaving the university—Pete played in the 1952 Rose Bowl contest, sang the "Star Spangled Banner" in football uniform before home games—he won a Chicago radio station's singing contest and went to California.

In 1954 he met Miss Jackie Gleason, secretary for actor Mark Stevens (no relation to the overweight comedian), and they were married. Then Uncle Sam gave him the nod.

It was while he was singing on Ed Sullivan's all GI show in June, 1956, that the producers of "Lil' Abner" spotted him. Three weeks later, parted from the Army, he went into rehearsal.

Pete, who is still only 25, remains a bit dazed at the sudden spin of fortune's wheel.

"A year ago," he remarked, "I was a private making $200 a month. We had an old station wagon and $10 in the bank. We had one kid, and another on the way."

Now Pete is in the $25,000 to $30,000 a year bracket. He has a used Cadillac and a $20,000 home in Closter, N. J., housing development. And he and Jackie have two kids—and another on the way.

"That'll be par for the course—three in three years," he said cheerfully. "That's what a dumb Protestant gets for marrying a smart Catholic. But that doesn't mean we'll be through with having kids. I like being a family man."

"My brother married a Catholic girl, too. They've had four children in five years."

"What does your brother do?"

"He's a guided missile engineer," said Pete.

Palmer says government bonds every month, is paying on annuities to send his kids to college.

"I want to be sure, even if I don't want to a cent myself, that the kids get an education."

Pete, who doesn't smoke and drinks only an occasional beer, keeps in rigorous condition.

"I do calisthenics for 20 minutes every morning, and spend another half hour chasing Melissa, our daughter," he said. "I also play a few sports, but they're gentlemanly sports now—handball, golf and swimming."

"But I owe a lot to football. It's been a real inspiration to me. It gives you a lot of hard knocks and disappointments. But it teaches you to give and take."

Yet he doesn't seem hurried by it all.

Come October, David will turn 21 and take over his savings for his years of work. But he plans no spree. He already has declared his independence with his own car and apartment. "I want to keep the money in investments for the future," he said, speaking like a true red-blooded, etc.

A—It is often difficult to know with certainty from the clinical symptoms alone in the very early stages whether pregnancy has occurred. It is for this reason that laboratory tests using frogs or rabbits have been developed which will answer the question much earlier.

Mrs. R.

A—It is evident that you are allergic to a number of substances. Sensitivity to orris root is by no means unusual. I believe there are some cosmetic preparations on the market from which orris root has been eliminated. You should be able to find these low allergenic cosmetics in almost any drug store or other store handling such preparations.

TREATMENT OF FUNGUS INFECTIONS OF NAILS OFTEN A DIFFICULT TASK

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

What is a difficult problem of treatment is presented in today's first letter.

Q—My husband has a fungus infection under his toenails and lately they get sore. If nothing is done, can the fungus eventually harm his feet and is there any other cure than removing the toenails?—Mrs. C. L.

A—"The treatment of fungus infections of the nails is often exceedingly difficult. Sometimes the fungus can be treated by soaking in appropriate chemicals or by externally applied medicines. However, sometimes it is necessary to remove the nails or to give X-ray treatments. With something as difficult and complicated as this, the best possible professional advice is advisable."

Q—What can be done to heal a fissure?—Mrs. G.

A—"A fissure is a crack in the skin at the outlet of the digestive tract. It can be painful and cause a good deal of difficulty. Sometimes the fissure is larger than is realized. As a rule, its cure is by operation and the surgery may have to be fairly extensive. However, since a fissure in this area rarely heals of itself surgery is generally well worthwhile."

Q—I have taken hay fever shots for several years and am getting much better each year. However, there is something else which bothers me. I cannot stand to use any perfume, powder or face cream which contains orris root. Is there anything else I can get?

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—So far Negroes are the winners, Southern whites are the losers in the civil rights fight. The battle isn't over. It's reaching its critical stage. This is an ABC on the fight and what lies ahead.

The bill passed by the House June 18 was a victory for Negroes, a defeat for the South. The Senate Wednesday night passed a toned-down version of the House bill. This too, was a Negro victory. Southerners could claim satisfaction from toning it down.

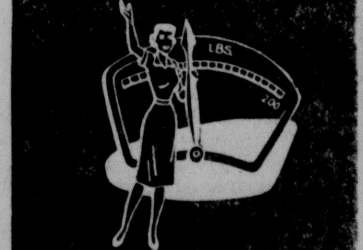

But there will be no civil rights law at all—which would be complete defeat for Negroes, complete victory for the South—unless the House and Senate compromise on a single bill which President Eisenhower is willing to sign.

On June 28, 1964, a bill passed Congress making Labor Day a legal holiday, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

OFFICER STOPS SPEEDER; ECHO STOPS OFFICER

KANSAS CITY — Motorcycle patrolman Eugene Scoville waved Mrs. Lulu Mae Johnson to the curb Thursday after clocking her at 34 miles per hour in a 25-mile zone.

"Let me see your driver's license," he said, reaching in the car window.

The woman's French poodle, Billy Echo, grabbed the officer's arm and "I thought he never was going to let loose," Mrs. Johnson said.

In the excitement Scoville almost forgot the speeding charge.

Then Mrs. Johnson got a ticket; Scoville got his arm treated, and Billy Echo got 10 days under observation for possible rabies.

CARROLLTON—The annual Knights of Columbus and Catholic Daughters of America picnic to which the public is invited will be held Sunday in the hall on South Main street. Serving will begin at 3:30 p.m.

Final plans for the picnic were made at the meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America which was held Tuesday evening in the hall. In addition to the planning of the menu a social evening was enjoyed and guests at the August birthday table were Mrs. Robert Carmody, Mrs. Helen Tapen, Mrs. Joe Frank, Mrs. Henry Rowe, Mrs. Roy Barry, Mrs. August Schnettgecke and Miss Mary Catherine Roach.

SAFE DRIVERS MEET
LOS ANGELES — Driving west on 1st Street was cab driver G. D. Madden, boasting 15 accident free years.

Driving east was another cab, Harry Hayman, 8 years without a traffic accident.

Both work for the same company—which had previously given both men safety awards.

That's right. The award winners collided at Main Street Thursday, slightly injuring their passengers and ruining two spotless records.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Are the Allies, by offering important concessions at the London disarmament conference, convincing the Russians that they will never react to any incident in such fashion as to risk atomic war?

If Russia is getting that idea, then a great part of the deterrent power of atomic weapons is being lost.

Russia armed the North Koreans and precipitated a serious war. She armed the Egyptians and created a serious crisis in the Middle East.

Now she is arming the Yemenis, who frequently attack the British in Aden.

The Allies reacted in Korea but carefully refrained from the use of nuclear weapons. Russia finally initiated a cease-fire, apparently convinced that such adventures might get her into serious trouble. She no longer seems convinced.

There is a considerable difference in the risk involved in providing arms to cause trouble between small countries, even in such an explosive area as the Middle East, and providing a small country with arms to be used against a great power.

The latter brings two great powers face to face in dangerous fashion.

Health Research Grants Include Illinois Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service today announced approval of grants of $26,501,643 for expansion of health research facilities.

The program, as authorized by Congress, is to receive 30 million dollars a year for three years "to assist in the construction of facilities for research in medical osteopathy, dentistry, and public health and fundamental and applied sciences when related thereto."

Today's grants, for the second year of the program, include:

Illinois Dept. of Public Health, Galesburg, addition to present structure and equipment for psychiatric research, $150,794.

Illinois Dept. of Public Health, Elgin, new structure for biochemical research in nutrition, $317,000.

U. of Illinois, Urbana, remodeling and expansion of biochemical research laboratory, $89,767.

U. of Illinois, Chicago, medical, dental and pharmacy research laboratory, $750,000.

The Allies have recognized this by including a ban on arms exports in their over-all disarmament package.

But Russia seems to feel she can continue taking such risks. That means she believes any disarmament agreement would be a license for her to keep causing trouble, gradually eroding Western power in the world.

TELLS HOW ITCH LEADS TO ARREST

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Detective Edward Pushkarwicz told a Magistrate's Court Thursday how an itch led to an arrest.

Pushkarwicz caught poison ivy from vines around a suburban post office as he was investigating the theft of a pistol and $1,338 in cash and stamps.

Scratching for a solution, the detective reasoned the thief might be similarly blistered and uncomfortable. He went to the home of a suspect, and sure enough, there was a bottle of poison ivy lotion in the bedroom. Pushkarwicz arrested 23-year-old Robert A. Lightkep.

Lightkep told the court he'd caught in the itch three weeks before the burglary. He was held without bail after another witness testified Lightkep had given him some stamps to sell.

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried—a place where you could be alone with your thoughts—a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people. Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage—but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your church.

Let your church be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace, and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—It's taken them a long time to get around to it, but it looks like the New York Giants this year might return the National League pennant to the Milwaukee Braves handed them in 1954.

That was the year the Braves, who they had received in their new location in 1953, in a moment of weakness traded Johnny Antonelli to the New York club. All Antonelli did was to win 21 games while losing 7, a performance without which the Giants never would have finished on top. Actually, it didn't look like such a bad deal for Milwaukee when it was made, as Antonelli had an indifferent 12-12 record in 1953, although his earned run average of 3.19 was in the respectable class.

Anyway, by way of reciprocity, the Giants last June sent Red Schoendienst to the Braves, and right now it is the general idea around the league that the Milwaukee club takes it all this year the classiest second baseman will be the one who was "the difference."

The Braves had been crying for good hitting, good fielding, second baseman for two or three years, and whenever the strengths and weaknesses of the clubs were listed in pre-season calculations, the second base was rated a weak spot on the Milwaukee team.

"If they only had Schoendienst," was the general trend of conversation. Well, they've got him, and he's making the guessers look very good indeed. The Braves have been going around in the swing-in door to the league lead, some times in and sometimes out, and the last time we looked they were in, with more than one critic figuring that's where they'll be when the season ends.

Schoendienst is consistent at the plate, slashing at the ball from either side, and although he isn't rated a power hitter he connects for distance often enough to keep the defense alert. It was his 14th inning home run which broke up the longest All-Star game on record in 1950.

Teamwork with the scrappy Johnny Logan he gives the Braves one of the best second base combinations in the league, and few teams ever have gone all the way without such a combination. So it looks like the Giants may have repaid a debt, although they'll still owe the Braves a little on another transaction.

Back in December, 1949, the Giants gave up loads of power, which they had to spare then, to get Alvin Dark and Eddie Stanky from the Braves, then the Boston Braves.

Two years later Stanky and Dark were the driving force behind New York's drive to the pennant, won in the memorable playoff with the Dodgers.

Getting back to Schoendienst, there would be an element of justice if he is on a pennant winner. He's playing his 13th season under the big top, and only once—in 1946—has he been in a World Series.

Kansas City Trips Indians In 13th On Martin's Hit

AD KANSAS CITY TRIPS
CLEVELAND (AP)—Billy Martin's single in the 13th inning scored Bob Cerv from second base and led the Kansas City Athletics to a 3-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians Friday night.

The defeat dropped the Indians into fifth place, a half game behind the Baltimore Orioles.

Roger Maris tied the score with a home run in the ninth inning off Ralph Terry, who held the Indians to three hits until that point.

The only other run off Terry was a fifth inning homer by Vic Wertz. Woody Held tied the score for the A's by hitting a home run off Early Wynn in the seventh.

Dodgers Snap Losing Streak, Beat Bucs 4-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers snapped a three game losing streak with a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night.

Danny McDevitt, Brooklyn's rookie southpaw, was credited with his fifth victory against one defeat although he needed help to put down a ninth-inning uprising in which the Pirates scored once.

Duke Snider, back in the Brooklyn lineup after missing six games with a bad knee, hit a solo homer in the eighth.

Braves Club 18 Hits Off Cardinal Hurling To Take 13-2 Victory

ST LOUIS (AP)—Milwaukee streaked to the biggest lead in the National League this season—3½ games—as Bob Buhl, backed by an 18 hit attack, subdued the second-place St. Louis Cardinals Friday night, 13-2.

It was Buhl's fifth victory in a row and the Braves' fifth straight success.

Hank Aaron, Ed Matthews, Wes Covington and rookie Bob Hazle all homered as the Braves fanned the Cards.

Red Schoendienst had four-for-four and scored three runs. Hazle, up from Wichita, also knocked out four hits.

Aaron (.334) took over the National League batting lead with two-for-five and tied Stan Musial (.332) of the Cards for RBI leadership with 87.

Lower Lindy McDaniel was his hard for six runs and seven hits, five of them extra-base blows in two and one-third innings.

A four-run third finished McDaniel. Schoendienst opened with a single and scored as Matthews lined a long triple to left-center.

Aaron, the leading home-run hitter in the league this year, followed with his 32nd four-blow. Covington doubled and McDaniel was taken out. Rookie Billy Muffett allowed an RBI single to Hazle.

The Braves added one in the sixth as Schoendienst doubled and came home on Frank Torre's single.

The gap widened to 11-1 in the seventh as Milwaukee notched four runs off of Willard Schmidt. Del Ennis' 16th home run in the second was the only Card run until Buhl walked Ken Boyer in the ninth with the bases loaded.

The Red Birds were futile all night with men on, leaving 14 men stranded.

Sneed's 2nd-Round 69 Gives Him Total 134 In Tam's World

CHICAGO (AP)—With the instinct of an old fire horse when the alarm sounds, perked-up Sam Sneed showed his heels to the awed younger pros Friday with a second round 69 and a sizzling halfway total of 134 to maintain his lead in golf's biggest money stampee.

The 45-year-old sweet swinger finished his chore in a light rain at Tam O'Shanter.

His 134 represented 10 strokes under par and wheeled him farther ahead in the field of 100 pros prospecting for the game's richest reward—$50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract.

Mike Souchack with a 33-37—70 and Shelley Mayfield with 36-34—70 shared third place at 133.

Grouped at 138 were Ed Oliver and Tony Holguin, followed at 140 by Bob Rosburg and Arnold Palmer.

National Open champion Dick Mayer and highly favored Gene Littler were among seven checking in at 141. Dow Finsterwald and Bill Casper, two other touted young players, were among those at 142.

Calhoun Defies AAU, Is Married On TV Program

NEW YORK (AP)—In defiance of the Amateur Athletic Union, Olympic gold medal winner Lee Calhoun was married Friday on the "Bride and Groom" television show to his college sweetheart, Gwendolyn Banister.

An AAU spokesman said that the moment the 23-year-old athlete appeared on the network show he disqualified himself as an amateur.

Dan Ferris, executive secretary of the AAU, had warned Calhoun a week ago that the commercialized wedding would capitalize on his athletic fame. The couple received gifts worth an estimated $2,500, as well as an undisclosed amount of traveler's checks and plane tickets for a Paris honeymoon.

The AAU has strict rules against appearances on commercialized TV and radio programs. There was one surprise when the Olympic champion's father, the Rev. Carey Calhoun of the Evening Star Baptist Church, Gary, Ind., married the couple. Calhoun, a native of Laurel, Miss., now resides in Gary. The bride, from Pinehurst, N. C., met Calhoun at a school dance when both attended North Carolina College.

Calhoun said that if he lost his amateur standing "it would hurt very much, but I would continue my work as an athletic instructor."

He plans to join the Cleveland recreation department Sept. 3.

Nieman Drives In All Runs, Orioles Beat Yanks, 4-3

BALTIMORE (AP)—Bob Nieman snapped out of a slump Friday night with a home run and two doubles as he drove in all the runs for the Baltimore Orioles in a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

The loss, third straight and fourth in their last five games, left the Yanks four games ahead of second-place Chicago in the American League standings.

Nieman slugged his homer in the fourth off loser Whitey Ford and hit a base-clearing double in the sixth following singles by Billy Gardner and Bob Boyd and a walk to George Kell.

The big outfielder entered the game with a .254 average and one hit in his last 21 times at bat.

The Yankees took a 2-0 lead in the third and added another run in the fourth.

Both Bones Broken In Jockey's Foot

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Both bones in jockey Johnny Longden's right leg were broken in a racing mishap at the Del Mar track Friday.

A doctor said it was likely Longden would be unable to ride for at least three to six months. There was track speculation whether Longden, 47, would ever ride again.

The English-born veteran, who holds the world's record of 5,090 wins in his riding career, was brushed against the starting stall by rearing Royal Zaca just before the fourth race. He was flung backward by the rearing horse.

X-rays later showed both bones were broken clean just above the ankle.

SON TIRES, BUT DAD PLAYS ON
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Former Masters champion Claude Harmon had a companion during most of his rounds of the PGA championship in his son, Claude (Butch) Harmon, Jr. However, on the fourth day of the five-day event, golfer Claude missed his shot until his dad gave him a chance at fifth place went into overtime.

"You just returned in time," said golfer Claude. "I was putting well until you left me. What happened?"

"I got tired," said the 13-year-old Butch.

Harmon won the match against Jay Hebert by dropping a 15-foot putt on the 20th hole.

However, that night Harmon learned that Mrs. Harmon was dead and was forced to fly home to Mamaroneck, N. Y.

On the last day he had to default to Open champion Dick Mayer, his former pupil, for a chance at fifth place.

Mayer said he would split $500 with Harmon although PGA records show that Mayer got $2,500 for fifth and Harmon $2,000 for sixth.

WINNING HABIT
GREELEY, Colo. (AP)—Colorado State College's Bears are getting to make a habit of winning the Rocky Mountain Conference baseball championship. The Bears won the crown last spring for the 14th time.

AKINS VICTORIOUS
CLEVELAND (AP)—Veteran Virgil Akins knocked down young Sugar Hart in the seventh round, and then stopped the dazed young Philadelphia welterweight at 49 seconds of the eighth round of their scheduled 10 rounder in Cleveland Friday night. Both fighters weighed 148 pounds.

Conerly Passes Giants To 22-12 Grid Victory In All-Star Classic

By TED SMITS
CHICAGO (AP)—Chuck Conerly passed the New York Giants to a 22-12 victory over the College All-Stars Friday night before a damp crowd of nearly 75,000 in Soldier Field.

John Brodie of Stanford almost matched Conerly's passing skill and Billy Ray Barnes of Wake Forest wiggled his way through the Giant offense to keep the game in suspense almost to the end.

Barnes scored the All-Star touchdown and Paige Colgren of Mississippi kicked two field goals and narrowly missed a third.

Conerly passed for both of the Giant touchdowns, but Ben Agajanian added the spectacular touch with his two field goals for the New York team. He kicked one from 33 yards away in the first period and another from 45 in the fourth.

Rain fell off and on throughout the game.

The Giants triumph in the 24th annual game made it 15 victories at Soldier Field.

CHICAGO, (U) — Butcher hogs and sows were generally steady Friday but their was little doing in cattle and sheep.

Hogs under 210 pounds and sows under 400 pounds closed low and weak. A few lots of No. 1 and 2 220 to 230 - pounders brought $22.25 to a practical top of $22.35, although 23 head sold at $22.50. Larger lots of mixed grade 380 to 375 - pound sows brought $19.00 to $20.50. Salable receipts were about as expected at 4,500 head.

The few sales of cattle were about steady, with only about 500 salable head on hand. Sales of standard and good slaughter steers were from $19.00 to $22.00. There were no heifers sales.

Only 200 head of salable sheep arrived and they were not enough to test prices fully. A few lots of spring lambs were about steady. Topping at $24.00.

CHICAGO (U) — (USDA) — Salable hogs, 4,500; moderately active, generally steady on butchers and culls; closed low; weak on a few lots butchers under 210 lb; on a few sows under 400 lb; all interest in trade with shipping demand good; No. 1 lot butchers very scarce; No. 2 220-230 lb butchers 21.75-22.25; mostly 22.00 and above on 210-270 lb; few lots No. 1-2 200-230 lb 22.25-23.35; 28 head No. 1 210-230 lb 22.50; lot 280 lb 21.75; a lot No. 3 340 lb butchers 20.50; few mixed grade lots 180-190 lb 20.25 - 21.50; larger lots mixed grades 330-375 lb sows 19.00-20.50; several lots 300-325 lb 20.50-21.00; few small lots 275-300 lb 21.00-21.25; most 400-550 lb 16.75-18.75.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK, (U) — Corporate and U. S. government bonds closed lower Friday in dull trading.

Treasury issues drifted lower in the wake of the new 3 1/2 per cent discount rate effective Friday in four of the federal reserve's 12 districts: Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Philadelphia. The 1/2 per cent hike is expected to become general throughout the system however very shortly.

The fact that losses were limited to one quarter of a point was attributed by some dealers to the fact that the discount rate boost had been anticipated for some time and followed by two days the increase in the commercial banks' prime loan rate to 4 1/2 per cent.

Among the corporates, utilities and rails declined. Industrials and investment quality issues were steady.

Trading on the Big Board amounted to $2,860,000 par value compared with $2,610,000 Thursday.

BEANS FUTURES FALL IN DULL SESSION

By WILLARD ROBERTSON
CHICAGO, (U) — Soybean futures fell rather sharply at times on the Board of Trade Friday but it was a dull session as far as other grains were concerned.

Beans dropped as much as four cents on selling which met little demand. Other grains were off early with soybeans but showed little change at the close.

New style wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower, soybeans 1 to 3 cents down, and hard 5 cents a hundred pounds higher to cents lower.

Most traders remained on the sidelines pending issuance of the government's Aug. 1 crop report after the close.

Dealers feared the soybean production forecast—the government's first of the year—would be higher than recent private estimates which ranged from 430 million bushels up to the size of last year's crop of 455 million bushels.

Traders were greatly fooled. The forecast issued after the close was for only 428 million bushels. This is an extremely low forecast as far as the trade is concerned, and traders said there was little doubt it will be interpreted bullish when trading opens Monday.

New York Stock Market

By WALTER BUSSEWITZ
NEW YORK, (U) — The stock market slipped a little lower Friday in the slowest session in five months.

Except for a few wide moving specialties, price changes either way were mostly under $1.

The market was down at the start, turned mixed about midday settled back some in the afternoon, then improved a bit near the close.

As a result, much of the list was a jumble of narrow gains and losses. Motors were up fractions to $1. Steels were mixed. Metals and aircrafts gave some ground.

Volume of 1,570,000 shares compared with Thursday's 1,690,000 and was the smallest since 1,540,000 shares changed hands on last March 18.

Brokers said the bulk of the trading was done by professionals. They reported the public generally was out of the market, awaiting a better picture of the business outlook after Labor Day.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 cents to $181.30, with industrials up 20 cents, rails off 20 cents and utilities off 20 cents.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices were lower on volume of 720,000 shares compared with Thursday's 710,000.

One-Hundred Fifty Years Ago Fulton Launched First Successful Steamboat

Editors Note: One hundred fifty years ago a strange vessel moved into the Hudson River off Manhattan and made history with every turn of its creaking paddle wheels. Here is the story of Robert Fulton and the famous voyage of his Clermont.

By HOWARD BENEDICT
NEW YORK (U) — About 100 or so persons gathered on the West 10th St. pier were loafers or curiosity seekers. A few came to scoff; a few friends prayed for success.

They all saw history made that day in August, 1807.

The crowd had gone to watch the launching of one of the strange boats ever to ride in the Hudson River. The first look was terrifying enough for clouds of black smoke and sparks shot from the skinny smokestack in the center of the 150-foot craft.

"She'll never make it," said one sideline skeptic. "Who ever heard of a ship that big driven by steam?"

"The way that boiler is acting up she'll explode before she leaves the dock," said another. "It's a crazy scheme, Fulton's folly."

But Robert Fulton was confident his boat, the Clermont, would succeed where so many others had failed. Conspicuous in a tall beaver hat and a blue-skirted coat, he hurriedly about the boat, giving the crew last minute instructions and trying to allay the fears of his 40 passengers, most of them friends and relatives.

Finally, he gave the order to cast off, and the Clermont's bulky and formidable engine shuddered violently as it built up steam for the 150-mile run to Albany.

Slowly the odd looking craft pulled into midstream and churned north against the current. And as the bright vermilion paddles of the side wheels beat repeatedly into the water on this warm Aug. 17, a few persons cheered lustily. Those who had predicted failure stared in disbelief.

The cheers were still quickly as suddenly, only a few hundred feet upstream, the Clermont's engine suddenly, shook furiously and stopped.

The current caught the crippled boat and carried it downstream—past the dock where the crowd hooted and jeered. Fulton ordered the anchor dropped.

He told his nervous passengers "I do not know what is the matter, but if you will be quiet and indulge me for half an hour, I will either go on or abandon the journey."

The passengers sat restlessly as Fulton worked feverishly over the engine. Then, with the half hour running out, he discovered what he described later as a "slight misadjustment in the machinery which in a short time was obviated."

More wood was fed to the fire, the engine was started and the Clermont chugged and splashed her way upstream. The passengers and the crowd on the pier let loose a mighty roar. The seagoing world was on the eve of a tremendous revolution.

Why had Fulton only 42, succeeded where so many others had failed?

The answer is that Fulton had a special genius for turning the mechanical idea of other men into a practical finished product. He had done this in inventing many minor machines and he had nearly converted the plans of others into a successful submarine.

At least 15 steamboats had been built in America before the maiden voyage of the Clermont. Others had been built abroad. Fulton had demonstrated a steamboat in France in 1803. But none of these could carry passengers and, therefore, were not practical.

Fulton gained the financial backing of Robert R. Livingston, chancellor of the state of New York and U. S. minister to France, and with almost unlimited capital he devoted four years to the development of his boat. He carefully studied the work of others and experimented with many small models before he finally built the Clermont.

Chugging throngs turned out in the state capital to greet the history-making ship, which had come from New York in 32 hours traveling time—half what it took the ordinary sailing ship.

The return trip was made without incident in 20 hours and Fulton and his fantastic boat were hailed throughout the world.

Fulton and Livingston immediately built other boats and began hauling passengers and freight on the Hudson. It was a profitable business. Soon other companies followed.

Twelve years after the Clermont voyage, the Savannah became the first steamship to cross the Atlantic and others followed.

Fulton did not live to see the ocean steamer become a reality. He died in 1815 of a cold caught on a boat inspection trip up the river he loved—the river that had been the scene of his greatest moment.

From 20-Mule Teams To Jet Engines! Boron, Glamor Fuel Emerging From Desert

LOS ANGELES (U) — A Little known element from the shimmering dry lake beds of California's deserts is emerging as the glamor stuff of the jet age.

It is boron, which you already use in more ways than you think, and which will play an ever larger role in your life in the future.

It's the key ingredient of new superfuels which some day may take man to the moon and beyond. It already has added new speed to fighters and bombers and missiles in America's arsenal.

Scientists say they are on the threshold of research programs that should open numberless uses for boron compounds in such diverse fields as medicine, atomic energy development, agriculture, food processing.

But the big push today, a push backed by undisclosed millions of government dollars, is for perfection of high energy fuels. Half a dozen big chemical firms, scores of smaller ones and many universities are working on aspects of fuel problems.

What is boron?

Pure boron is a gray, extremely hard nonmetallic element first isolated in France in 1808. It is found in the pure state only as a laboratory curiosity. In nature, it is usually found with borax—sodium tetraborate—a crystalline white salt with an alkaline taste. The salt is mined from lake beds where it had been carried by rainwaters draining over millions of years from ranges rimming Death Valley and the Mojave Desert.

Under these glistering white expanses, where summer temperatures sometimes hit 130, the stuff lies in beds hundreds of feet thick—beds that contain 95 per cent of the world's known supply.

Since the days when it was hauled out by the famed 20-mule teams, boron had until the last few years a steady but unspectacular career in industry.

To housewives, it was most familiar as a disinfectant, boric acid, and as a cleanser. But it also became a vital ingredient in glass, fertilizers, pesticides, soil sterilants.

Then with the crash program to develop long-range missiles, came the need for a fuel to power them. The military singled it out as the element most likely to succeed in Project Zip — designed to speed high-energy fuel research.

Why boron?

Importantly, it is light, the fifth lightest element. And it will combine with hydrogen, the lightest thing of all.

Scientists put it this way: Hydrogen would be the perfect fuel, as it produces the maximum energy per pound. But pure hydrogen is impractical, dangerous and expensive.

Of the other light elements in good supply, boron is the most practical.

As an atomic reactor shield, a quarter-inch thick layer of plastic and boron absorbs neutrons as effectively as eight feet of concrete. It has, however, a high replacement rate.

As an ingredient of longer-lasting fire bricks.

With silicon in solar batteries, to convert the sun's rays into electricity.

Sprayed into orange crates, it is attracted by the moisture of fruit bruised in shipping, and chemically seals the bruise, preventing spoilage.

PIONEERS NOT SO HARDY
TAMPA, Fla. (U) — The popular conception of the American pioneer as a hardy specimen of near physical perfection is largely a myth, a Tampa history teacher maintains.

"A formidable number of the pioneers... were miserable, sickly creatures," Dr. J. Ryan Belser of the University of Tampa said Thursday.

"Frequent accidents, the effects of exposure, decaying vegetables, swamps, poor food habits, lack of sanitation and hygiene, and inadequate knowledge for prevention and cure of disease" outweighed the natural health benefits of an active outdoor life," he added.

Prison Sentence Given Two Spies

Abel Arraigned
Abel, 55, who appeared in court in Brooklyn, had no direct connection with the activities of the Sobel ring. He posed for nine years as a Brooklyn artist while, the government said, he collected atomic and military data for transmission to Moscow.

A wispy, disheveled man, looking not at all like a top-flight espionage agent, Abel said the Russian government has made no move on his behalf since his indictment.

"That's their business," he told reporters. "I have no intention of getting in touch with anyone."

Gets Own Lawyer

In past arrests of Soviet nationals, the Russian Embassy in Washington has been quick to spring to their defense. However, Abel went ahead with his own plans to get a lawyer.

The spy charges were lodged against him after a Russian agent reportedly defected to the West and revealed the ring's existence.

The government said there was no direct connection between the Sobel ring of spies and the alleged activities of Abel. The only link between the two apparently was A. M. Korotkov, a Russian intelligence figure said to have had a part in both operations.

Sobel, 54, and his wife posed as refugees from Nazi persecution and were naturalized in 1947. Sobel grew up in the same Lithuanian village as Albam, who came to this country after World War II but was not naturalized. The three were arrested last Jan. 25.

ENDS THIRST, SEARCH
PHILADELPHIA (U) — A policeman, after searching unsuccessfully for illegal whisky in a west Philadelphia home worked up a thirst.

Patrolman Charles Stitt headed for the cold water tap of a laundry tub, poured himself a glass, raised it to his lips—and the search came to an end.

Stitt and other officers traced the "water" pipe to a buried 25-gallon drum in the backyard. The drum, they said, was about two-thirds full of "white whisky."

Probers Hear Union Let Dio Set Price For Leaving

he raised no objection to paying Dio $16,000 for getting out of the union.

Heaton testified Dio demanded $10,000 as his price for quitting the union, but that he upped the ante to $16,000 and received that amount.

Heaton testified Dio claimed he was entitled to the money for repayment of funds Dio had put into the union. Heaton added that he was told by Dio that Dio had put up at least that much, and maybe more, of his own money.

Doria, who, judging from Heaton's testimony, knew much more of what went on in the union than Heaton did, is scheduled to be a witness before the committee.

Kennedy said Dio provided vouchers showing only a little over $5,000 was due him, rather than the $16,000 he was paid.

PRISCILLA'S POP

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAINE

STEVE CANYON

CARNIVAL

"This is my Pop—is there such a thing as painless dentistry?"

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

BY GENE OLSON

XXII
Blanchard heard me and walked out slow. Cole stopped. His face, city white with high red touches, showed me nothing. He stepped aside for Blanchard. Blanchard stopped.

Blanchard said, "Cole Jethroe?"

"That's right, sir." Cole's voice was smooth, not bothered at all. Cole looked a lot like Barney and his voice was exactly like Barney's.

"Blanchard, U.S. marshal's office Omaha City."

Cole nodded. "I've heard about you. What can I do for you?"

"You know about what's happened here?"

"Yes, I was told right away, of course. Terrible."

"Can you tell me anything about it?"

"Why, I don't suppose so. What I know is what people have told me since I arrived."

"What people?"

Cole reached into his pocket for a black, rough-crowned pipe and filled it from a brown leather pouch. He lit a match and drew deep on the pipe and spoke around it. "A lot of questions, marshal, if you don't mind my saying so. I arrived in town last night, heard what happened, that's all. You obviously think I'm involved."

"It's mighty unusual that you'd show the night after Dorsey was taken from the train."

Cole nodded. "I'll admit that. You got a room at the hotel after you came in. Where did you go then?"
